

5-1-2018

Contributors

Obsculta Editors

College of Saint Benedict/Saint John's University, obsculta@csbsju.edu

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.csbsju.edu/obsculta>

 Part of the Religion Commons

ISSN: 2472-2596 (print)

ISSN: 2472-260X (online)

Recommended Citation

Editors, Obsculta. 2018. Contributors. Obsculta 11, (1) : 5-6. <https://digitalcommons.csbsju.edu/obsculta/vol11/iss1/1>.

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by DigitalCommons@CSB/SJU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Obsculta by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@CSB/SJU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@csbsju.edu.

CONTRIBUTORS

In order of appearance

TONYA D. H. TOUTGE is a 2015 graduate of Saint John's School of Theology and Seminary. She currently works in the greater Twin Cities area as a family counselor and serves as an adjunct faculty member at Bethel University.

REGINALD UDOUJ, O.S.B. is a monk of Subiaco Abbey in Subiaco, Arkansas. He graduated in Spring of 2018 and was ordained to the priesthood in July 2018.

KELLEN TROXELL is an M.T.S. student from Claremont, California. Her areas of interest include food, culture, and German theology of the twentieth century.

AIDAN PUTNAM, O.S.B., is midway through the M.Div. program for monastic ordination to the priesthood. In addition, he teaches theater at Saint John's Preparatory School, Benedictine Spirituality at Saint John's University, and assists in reception duties at the Abbey Guesthouse.

KAYLA STOCK is from St. Cloud, Minnesota and is a third year M.Div. student at Saint John's. Upon graduation, she will continue to work as a hospice registered nurse in the Twin Cities.

KATHLEEN A. CAHALAN is professor of practical theology at Saint John's University School of Theology and Seminary and director of the Collegetown Institute Seminars, a collaborative, interdisciplinary, and ecumenical research project that includes seminars on vocation across the lifespan, vocation and faith in the professions, and interfaith perspectives on vocation.

JOHN SCHEUER serves as music director at Grand Rapids United Methodist Church. John graduated in the spring of 2018 from Saint John's School of Theology with an M.T.S. and will pursue an M.Div. at United Theological Seminary of the Twin Cities.

CINDY LILIANA GONZALEZ is from Los Angeles, California and is an M.Div. candidate at Saint John's School of Theology. She lives in St. Joseph, MN with her son, Franco, and her husband, Jake. Cindy hopes to return to California upon graduation and pursue a role that directly supports diverse communities and efforts of inclusion.

CONTRIBUTORS

MATTHEW NELSON is from Seattle, Washington and is completing his first year of M.T.S. studies at Saint John's, with a focus on systematics. Matthew's passions are in liberation theology and social ethics.

ALBRECHT NYCE, O.S.B. is a monk at Glastonbury Abbey in Hingham, MA. He holds a B.S. in Physics and an M.S. in Computer Engineering and worked 26 years as a Professor and Director of Engineering. He graduated in Spring of 2018 from the M. Div. program at St. John's in the ordination track. In a previous life he was married and he has three grown children and four granddaughters and one grandson. Besides the grandchildren, he is passionate about the dialogue between religion and science.

WILLIAM IKHIANOSIMHE ORBIH is a priest of the Archdiocese of Abuja in Nigeria. He is presently studying for the Master of Theology Studies (MTS) degree, with a focus in Systematic Theology and Youth Ministry.

ANDREW REMICK is a native of Rochester, MN, pursuing an MTS degree with a concentration in Liturgy. Andrew has more than a decade of music ministry experience and a background in architectural history. Andrew hopes to serve in campus ministry following graduation in 2019.

ALYSSA MATY is from Lockport, Illinois and completed a Master of Arts in Ministry at Saint John's School of Theology in 2018. She has a passion for Hispanic ministry and now works with St. Michael's Catholic Church in Sebree, KY as a Pastoral Associate.

BROTHER JAMES VOELLER is a Franciscan Brother of Peace, a local community in the Archdiocese of St Paul & Minneapolis. He is a third year M.Div. priesthood student here at Saint John's School of Theology and Seminary. In his community, he serves the spiritually and bodily poor, works with formation and assists the development of their spiritual center in the Arrowhead region of Minnesota.