Earth Day at Saint John's

Its pristine scenery gives our campus life,
The environment all around us, so inviting and diverse.
From the autumn leaves to the winter snow,
We find beauty all around us wherever we may go.

Lake Sagatagan stands out in the summer sun,
It's pristine blue water, a reflection of the trees and clouds above.
It's sandy shore inviting of a cold refreshing swim,
Gliding along in a canoe we see the sun glisten across the water.

This is a walking place,
Our serene arboretum allows us to embrace the nature where its paths meet.
The whispers of these ancient trees speak to us,
Their branches sway in the breeze, as if to give us a wave.

With every step on these campuses, a new story unfolds,
Of growth, resilience, and secrets untold.
Amongst the ferns and wildflowers across our arboretum so fair,
We find a sanctuary, a haven there.

As we celebrate Earth Day at Saint John's,
Let's pledge to be stewards, as those who came before,
Let's carry on the legacy of this sacred land,
With reverence and care, hand in hand.
