

Digital Repository Material Contribution Form

The Compass: Earth Science Journal of Sigma Gamma Epsilon is hosted on DigitalCommons at the College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University (CSB/SJU) as part of the schools' web based institutional repository for digital content. It is a permanent archive and The Compass and other material on DigitalCommons@CSB/SJU are searchable via Google Scholar. Materials located herein are "Open Access," and freely accessible to the world; however, your copyright protects against unauthorized use of the content. This is a non-exclusive agreement; the author may publish all or part of this work in another forum at any time and in any format. The agreement will remain in force unless terminated by the author.

If your work includes images that are not original works by you, you must properly cite the images origins or provide permissions from the original content provider. Failure to do so will result in the images not being included in the electronic copy. If your work includes accompanying material that is not original work by you, the same copyright stipulations apply – all text must be properly cited and referenced. If your work includes interviews, you must include a statement that you have the permission from the interviewees to make their interviews public. If you have questions regarding these permissions, please contact editor@sgeearth.org.

I have read the above statement and agree to make my submitted work available on the permanent digital archive DigitalCommons@CSB/SJU or its successor technology. By signing this form, I acknowledge that all work contained in this paper or other submitted work is original work by me or includes appropriate citations and/or permissions when citing or including excerpts of work(s) by others.
